The Holy Convent

The Holy Convent of the Annunciation is located in Halkidiki, near the large village of Ormylia, which has given the Monastery its familiar name "Ormylia."

Since 1974 the sisters have cultivated their olive groves and orchards in harmony with the laws of nature and the environment's ecosystem. Harvesting is done by hand by the entire sisterhood. Throughout the production process, traditional and natural methods are followed under the careful supervision of the sisters, ensuring an exceptional quality that has been recognised in international food quality competitions. A farm, is home to sheep, goats, and chickens, which provide milk and eggs used in making trahana and traditional noodles.

The sisters produce and have available:

Organic: Olive oil, Olives, Herbal Teas

Olive oil, Olives, Olive spreads

Honey, Jams, Spoon sweets

Herbs, Spices

Traditional noodles, Trahana

Wine, Liqueur

Personal care products

Seasonal gifts

The Monastery has been awarded with the first "Canon" Monastic Products Signal which certifies the authenticity of the products with an emphasis on tradition, place of origin and their excellent quality.
